

Habits of High-Performance Teams

Learn how to use Behavioural Design to boost effectivity, agility, creativity and happiness of your teams.

- Learn why some teams thrive, and others don't.
- Understand the triggers of team behaviour.
- Discover which habits make your team more creative, productive, innovative & happy.
- Learn how to transform your team culture.
- Together with your team we'll create behavioural habits that will help them flourish.

- 🕒 Duration: 1 full-day masterclass
- 🕒 Time: 9.00 - 16.00 hrs CET
- 💰 Investment: €799, excluding VAT
- 👥 Participants: Minimum of 8 persons

CLICK HERE TO CONTACT US

When book this workshop?

Covid has changed the way we work dramatically. It has also created an acceleration in need to innovate the way we collaborate as teams and managers. Most talent doesn't want to go back to how things once were. But how do you reinvent work smartly? How do you make sure your teams can perform no matter where they are? This workshop will help you use behavioural science to innovate the way we work based on deep human understanding: helping you make operational excellence and work/life happiness go hand in hand.

What do you get?

In this one-day workshop, we help you and your team use behavioural science to discover what your talent needs to be productive, creative, innovative and happy regardless of their location. We will unravel your talent's motivations and barriers and turn them into habits that will help them flourish individually and boost performance as a team.

The workshop includes:

- Full-day training by an experienced Behavioural Designer
- All course materials in PDF for every participant
- Goodie bag with a learning kit for every participant
- Ready-to-use tools and templates for every participant
- Training at our location in Amsterdam includes homemade lunch, snacks, drinks, and location for every participant

Requirements of your team:

Your team doesn't need any former experience in behavioural design or psychology. If they are curious to learn, they can join. They also do not need any design or creative skills. We'll show them the ropes. We teach the workshop both in Dutch or English, but since we have many international participants, all materials are in English. Some basic know-how of English comes in handy, but it doesn't need to be fluent.

Virtuele editie van de workshop

We also provide a virtual edition of this masterclass with a live trainer and real-time interaction with fellow participants.

Officially accredited educational institute

Did you know we are an official education institute globally accredited by the EQAC (Education Quality Accreditation Commission)? The accreditation provides you with a warranty of our academic quality, our educational integrity, and administrative responsibility and ensures continuous quality monitoring and feedback.

Do you have any questions, or do you need more information?
Should you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact us, we are more than happy to help you.

SUE | Behavioural Design Academy | 's-Gravenhekje 1a, 1011 TG Amsterdam,
The Netherlands | (31) 20 2234626 | hello@suebehaviouraldesign.com